VOL. CXXXII—No. 249. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1916. PRICE 2 CENTS

'HAYFIELD' IS BURNING

Old Landmark of Fairfax County, Constructed by George Washington, Prey of Flames

James M. Duncan, of this city, received a telephone message about noon today stating that the mansion at "Hayfield," on the Telegraph Road, six miles south of Alexandria, was burning. Mr. Duncan and his family have recently occupied the house. He hurried to the scene in an automomile, and in the meantime the motor engine of this city made a record run to "Hayfield."

The origin of the fire is at present unknown, nor can the damages be approximated. It was said that all the occupants of the mansion escaped injury, but it is feared that many articles in the house were destroyed.

When the news of the fire spread over the city many regrets were expressed, as but few Alexandrians are unaquainted with "Hayfield", it having at different times been the home of prominent Virginians.

The mansion was built by George Washington in colonial days. In 1784 the year in which the Alexandria Gazette was established, George Washington sold the mansion and farm to Lund Washington.

In ante bellum days "Hayfield" was the home of the late Richard Windsor. It had in recent years been occupied by J. M. Pettit, Mr. Clark, Mr. Garber and John J. Judd. Mr. Duncan succeeded the latter.

PROSPECTS OF PEACE

Danish Paper Says This is Day of Prussian Militarism

Copenhagen, Oct. 24—The Finans Tidente, in its weekly financial review, discussed the prospects of peace. It says:

"Rumors of forthcoming peace are again current this week. But there is no occasion to attach undue importance to them.

"Augury is pitted against augury and consideration of the result of the elections in the United States outweighs that of the bleeding people of the whole of Europe. It may suit President Wilson's purpose to play a tune on the harp of peace, but this is the day of Prussian Militarism.

"The fighting on the continental theater of war promises no early decision. Winter is at hand and starvation or exorbitant prices are threatening.

"The annihilation of Germany would merely mean England's preparations to take up the struggle against the next strongest naval power, namely, America, which is now feverishly equipping herself.

"It is high time, at all events, that the United State and Australia take up military measures. The 'Yellow peril' is creeping uncomfortably nearer to both. Japan is carefully scrutinizing the American railway enterprises in China. Does the change in Japan's ministry possibly indicate a new attitude toward the Unted States?"

MARTIN ON THE STUMP

Senator Thomas S. Martin will start on a speechmaking trip in the Ninth District of Virginia on Thursday, October 26, to aid in the election of Lee Trinkle as Congressman from that district. The Senator will remain in the district about a week.

He will speak at Pulaski, Thursday, October 26; Tazewell, October 28, and at Big Stone Gap and Coeburn a few days later. The date for the last two speeches have not yet been set. He may make even more speeches if the situation seems to make it desirable.

Judge Rhea, of the Ninth District, will accompany Senator Martin on his trip through the Southwest.

Senator Martin, a man more given to action than words, who makes but few remarks in the Senate, but is one of the most powerful men in that body, nevertheless, can make a rattling good speech when occasion demands. He has an enormous and staunch following in the State, and because of his sincerity and retiring modesty his words have more effect in the Ninth District than any man who could be sent there. That is perhaps the principal reason Virginia's grand old man has been reserved for the last week of the campaign by the campaign managers in the Ninth

ALEXANDRIA'S NEEDS

High School Student Expresses Her Opinion Concerning Some of the Obstacles Which Block Its Progress

The students in the English department of Alexandria's High School were requested to write essays on "What Alexandria Needs Most," a few days ago. Two or three of them have been sent to the Gazette with permission to publish, one of which, written by Miss Carolena Yates, appears herewith. A perusal of it indicates that our young people are not going about with their eyes closed to certain conditions which exist here and that they are also competent to express their opinions regarding them:

Alexandria needs co-operation. By co-operation I mean that each individual should take an interest in everything that is for the good of his or her city. The citizens of Alexandria pay their taxes, but do not work in a body to accomplish things.

Take for example, the streets. There are some streets in Alexandria that no other city would allow to be as they are. If the citizens got together and worked with a public interest in their city, these streets would not lie in such a condition.

Then too, the schools should have more attention. The High School was started but not finished. If the people of this city would wake up and take an interest in things, the High School would be more complete, whereas at present, it hasn't even a laboratory or a gymnasium, and no attention has been paid to the grounds

The city newspaper would have been better today if the citizens had helped to properly support it, but such has not been the case, and consequently, it cannot be run on so large a scale as it should be.

Also, the citizens should patronize the merchants and dealers of their own city, instead of going to Washington. They would help in this way, more than in any other. But, the majority of people think that things purchased in Washington are somehow, better than in Alexandria. No doubt this is so, but only because the merchants of Alexandria think it of no use to buy a lot of stock which they feel would never be sold in a season. If the people would patronize the stores of their own city, the merchants would be only too glad to get better things to sell them.

The streets should be lighted in a better way. Instead of having an arc-light on every other corner, there should be at least three electric street-lamps on every square. This could easily be done in time, if the citizens worked together more than they do.

The people could also get together and organize a Y. M. C. A., and other clubs that would keep the younger generation off the streets. The moving picture companies could be asked to produce educational and instructive pictures, not only for the benefit of school children, but for the benefit of everyone.

In short, the citizens of Alexandria should take a public interest in the affairs of their city. In this way, Alexandria would soon become an enterprising, up-to-date city.

THE DAILY VERSE

Written for the Alexandria Gazette
—by C. L. F.—

MOTHER.

What a volume of pleasure or pain
May be caused when this word is spoken;
Joy to the child who has always been true;
And pain to the one who has broken
The tenderst o'hearts in this wide, wide world;
His pain is a pain with a thrill;
His tears flow unceasingly down his cheeks
For the wronged one who loves him still.

SPEND A NIGHT AT HOME WITH MOTHER

Alone she gazes into a vacant chair;
Won dering and dreaming and longing
For a form she used to see there.

Go cheer her up with a toast or a song.
Make the sad soul happy once more;
For a night at home with mother dear
Will cheer her heart so tired sore.

Tell her those tales of dear yesterday;
Tell how you long for her earnest prayers;
Pour out your heart in a manly way
And tell her of all your cares.

For there's naught on the seas,
In the earth, nor above
That can extinguish or molder
A mother's pure love.

Week's Imprisonment.

A young man, whose only weakness is that of tarrying too long with the wine, was arraigned in the Police Court to answer a chronic charge. He made no attempt to refute the evidence of Officer Talbott, but plead for leniency. He promised to straighten up and resume his work. Justice Caton informed him that he would be liberated one week from today, when the prohibition law shall have gone into effect.

FINED TWENTY DOLLARS TO GO TO WASHINGTON

Negro Charged With Evicting Wife and Mother-in-Law During the Wee Sma' Hours of Last Night.

About one o'clock this morning Officers Snelling and Zell while patroling the southern section of the city heard a disturbance and hastened toward a house occupied by a colored family, whence the sound came. When they reached the scene they found a colored woman, greatly distressed, who alleged that her husband had unceremoniously pulled her out of bed and assaulted her while forcing her into the street. The man was placed under arrest, and was brought before the Police Court this morning. The wife in her testimony alleged that her liege lord came to his home after midnight, while she was in bed, and after pulling the clothes from the bed seized her and forced her down stairs, assulting her in the meantime. Her mother followed her upon the stand, and corroborated the wife's story, but amended it by saying that her son-in-law had also entered her home and treated her as he had his wife.

The negro in his defense, stated that his wife was a dipsomaniac, which had caused him to evict her from the house. He further stated that he recently called in a colored doctor to make an examination of her. The doctor, after a close investigation informed the man that there was but one ray of hope for him, and that was to wait until the city became dry. The negro, however, with but one week to wait, determined to oust her before November 1st.

Justice Caton imposed a fine of $20 upon the prisoner.

FINED TWENTY DOLLARS TO GO TO WASHINGTON

Rev. Gypsy Smith Will Conduct Evangelistic Services in the Capitol City in February.

Rev. Gypsy Smith telephoned to the Gazette today that he has been invited to conduct a campaign in Washington in February. Twenty-six Presbyterium churches of the District of Columbia have united in this request, and it is proposed to erect a tabernacle for the purpose of accommodating the thousands who are eager to attend the meetings.

A few years ago Rev. Gypsy Smith sr., conducted protracted services in Washington, and they were the most successful ever held in that city. The people of the District of Columbia are eager to have the son with them, and much enthusiam is manifested among the churches not only of Washington, but of all the surrounding country. Alexandrians also anticipate with joy the fact that they are to be given another opportunity of attending the Gypsy Smith meetings. It takes but half an hour to make the run between Alexandria and Washington, and as six hundred of our people made the trip to Charlottesville last Friday in order to enjoy the meetings being held in that place, it can be positively stated that many more of our people will visit the tabernacle in Washington, when Mr. Smith begins his meeting next winter.

The Charlottesville Progress in its description, of the visit of Alexandrians to the Gypsy Smith tabernacle in that place last Friday night says:

The Gypsy Smith, excursionists from Alexandria, nearly 600 strong, were much in evidence at the Tabernacle last night. Chock full of enthusiasm they never lost an opportunity to show their appreciation of the great good done in Alexandria by the evangelist and his co-workers. The visitors went to the Tabernacle early and when Mr. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Cole and Miss Hoagland entered the building each was given the chautauqua salute. The welcome given the evangelist was, indeed, an ovation—a tribute of which any man should be proud, although in the prayer which followed, thanks were given by the Rev. Mr. Carpenter, rector of Grace Church, Alexandria, that despite success and the plaudits of friends the heart and mind of Gypsy Smith, has not been turned, "Give him health of mind and body and make him able to turn many to righteousness. We came, not to honor him, but because he is honoring Christ."

Following the earnest prayer by Rev. Mr. Carpenter, who stated that the Alexandrians were interested in this community at this time, the choir sang, "Nailed to the Cross."

Mr. Smith briefly thanked the Alexandrians for the interest they are showing in religious work. He was glad to know that the good work is still going on in Alexandria. "We count it a great privilege for having led so many to Christ in your city," he added. He told the visitors that the Charlottesville people had opened their hearts to him and his coworkers; that he had a splendid choir, and a band of loyal ministers. "Charlottesville is standing behind us," he exclaimed.

"Rejoice, Jehovah Reigns," and "How Firm a Foundation," were rendered by the choir, and there was a pretty duet by Mrs. C. J. Deahl of Alexandria, and Mr. Cole, Mr. Smith accompanying on the piano. The selection was "Sweeter as the Years Go By."

Just before the sermon the evangelist and Mr. Cole sang "Drifting," with much effect.

During the service Mr. Cole and Miss Hoagland sang, a duet.

The first squadron of the Virginia cavalry, known as the Richmond Blues, arrived at Brownsville, yesterday. They will form a part of the new provisional cavalry regiment, it was announced.

NEGRO EXODUS

There is anxiety in some portions of the southern country at the emigration of negroes from Dixie into northern sections of the United States. This is not the first time this has taken place. The great mass of colored people, however, generally return to their native heaths, only a few taking up permanent abodes in the new sections.

While southern people may be for a short time inconvenienced by the lack of help, the members of the African race are apt to do themselves more harm than good in their periodical migrations. They are liable to return to find white people performing duties of which they now have practically a monopoly.

It is noticeable that but few negroes are found in hotels and other public places in the north. Forty or more years ago many New York cafes employed negroes as waiters; they are not seen as often in such places now. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company utilized them in the cafe at Jersey City at one time. They soon gave way to whites.

Travelers in Europe seldom see a negro. Every attache of hotels, cafes, railroads, and other public places is of the white race. It was suggested many years ago that the time was coming when the people of the south will realize that negro help is not indispensable.

The negro is understood in the south while in the north he is held responsible with whites. In our southern country there is more consideration shown him by the well-disposed than is manifest north of Mason and Dixon's line.

There is a story, ancient with many of our older people, but probably new to the larger portion of the present generation, of a Southern negro who became stranded in the north, far away from home and friends. The pangs of starvation forced him to knock at the door of a house and beg something to eat. The man of the house, an abolitionist ex animo, after hearing the negro's story, began to preach to him on the sin of improvidence. The gnawing in the negro's stomach became more acute, and he said, "Tell me if you are going to give me anything, or let me go." The housekeeper let him go. He knocked at another door, but met with no better reception. This individual proceeded many questions to the hungry negro, and finally told him that was away on a visit and he compelled to take dinner at a restaurant, as there was nothing to eat in the house. He shut the door in the hungry man's face. The negro by this time had become greatly despondent, but he determined to make one more effort to obtain something to appease his hunger, and arriving in front of a fine residence he pulled the door bell. The proprietor was a southern man who had taken up his residence in the north. Before the negro had spun half his story the man interrupted him, thus: "you black rascal, why did you come to the front door? Go round to the kitchen and tell them to give you as much as you can eat."

The darkey involuntarily exclaimed, "Thank God, I've found a man at last who understands the negro."

CONTEST IN BALTIMORE

The city of Baltimore is engaged in the greatest contest over the license question ever known there. It is said that the 123,000 voters are really more interested in whether the city goes wet or dry than they are over the Presidential contest. On the same day they vote for President they will vote for or against the no-license amendment. The city has twelve hundred or more saloons and hotel bars and derives a revenue of more than one million dollars from liquor sources. It is the largest city in the country to vote on the

A singular condition prevails concerning the city's newspapers. The American, a republican journal, is non-committal. The Sun, democratic, is for prohibition in the counties, but favors liquor in Baltimore city, while the News comes out straight in favor of license.

The politicians are said to be especially worried over the situation and are devoting more time and energy to the liquor fight than to either the Presidential or Congressional campaign. A large fund has been contributed to the liquor side by the hotels, saloons, distilleries, breweries and the National Liquor Dealers' Association, while Wm. T. Cochran, Summerfield Baldwin, the Lovering brothers and other prominent citizens are putting up the cash on the side of temperance. Thousands of zealous men, women and children are working in every ward, meetings are being held nightly in churches and halls and no effort is being spared by either side.

That the "dry" movement has gained much strength is evident from the fact that many saloon keepers admit that numbers of their patrons have come out frankly and say they are going to vote against liquor, while several wholesale liquor dealers are said to be arranging to close out their business.

Twenty of the counties in the state of Maryland are now wholly or partly dry, and a member of one of the oldest liquor firms in Baltimore is quoted as saying that what few localities in the state are not now dry, soon will be. The result will be awaited with much interest on all sides.

LATE REV. DR. HUNT

The death of Rev. Dr. G. L. Hunt, at one time pastor of the First Baptist Church in this city, which occurred in Braodhead, Wis., last month was announced in the Gazette at the time. The Independent-Register of Brodhead has the following to say of the deceased:

"George Langford Hunt was born in Boston, Mass., October 21, 1841 and died in Brodhead, Wis., Sept 23, 1916, aged 74 years, eleven months, two days.

He was united in marriage to Mary Ellen Cummings, of Paris, Maine, in June, 1863. Two daughters were born of this union, Nettie C. now Mrs. F. P. Russell, of Alexandria, Virginia, and Helen Hunt, of New York City.

Dr. Hunt graduated from Waterville College, Maine, and Newton Theological Seminary, Mass. He was pastor of many of the large churches in the East, also in the south, and was Chaplain for a time of the prison at Blackwells Island, New York City. The Doctor was a prominent Mason, also a Knight of Pythias being a charter member of Howard Lodge, K of P., No. 3, New York City.

He was a member and Chaplin of the Elks of Alexandria, Va., and a member of Old Dominion Commandery, No. 11 Knight Templars of Virginia, and a member of Union Royal Arch Chapter of Athol, Mass.

Mrs. Hunt passed to her reward many years ago. The doctor was called to the pastorate of the First Baptist Church of Brodhead about the 21st of this month, [illegible] his services have been eminently satisfactory is evidenced by the esteem in which he was held by the Church and community at large.

WAR TO END IN 1917?

New York, Oct. 24—The end of the European war in 1917 and the death of the Hohenzollern dynasty in Germany the year following are the predictions made by Stuart Armour, an American astrologer, formerly a mining engineer in California, now manager of Mount Stephen House at Field, B. C.

For twenty years Mr. Armour has been a student of astrology and in that time has made many remarkable predictions. In California and Western Canada his prophecies are always awaited with a great deal of interest. After a study of the horoscope of the Kaiser and the Emperor of Austria, Mr. Armour became convinced that the collapse of those two nations was inevitable and believes the war will end in victories for the allies in 1917 and that the following year there will be a revolution in Germany against Emperor Wilhelm which will deprive him of his throne and throw the whole Hohenzollern house in the discard.

Following a prolonged illness, Dr. Louis McLane Tiffany, one of the foremost physicians of the United States, prominent as an educator and surgeon, died yesterday at Mount Custis, Accomack county.

KILLED AND BURNED TWO

Aged Man Said to Have Confessed Murder of Wife and Stepson

Los Angeles, Oct. 24—Arrested on complaint of the District Attorney, Benton L. Barrett, aged 64, a man of wealth, is charged with the murder of his wife and stepson, at Santa Monica last week. Before the two were dead, the police alleged, Barrett cremated their bodies.

Barrett walked into the office of his attorney, Lewis D. Collins, and, his counsel asserts, confessed to the double murder. Mr. Collins at once communicated with the District Attorney, and at the latter's request, took Barrett to the Court House. After hearing the aged man's story, the District Attorney issued the complaint upon which Barrett was lodged in jail.

Barrett came here several years ago from Circleville, Ind. Mrs. Barrett, before her marriage, was a widow, Mrs. Irene L. Rodgers, of Mount Aetna, Ind.

Six were negroes. W. F. Lowrey and a miner named Pervis, are still in the mine and all hope for them has been abandoned.

George Holloway, a white miner who was in the mine at the time of the explosion, reached safety through a pumphouse. He was badly burned but it is believed he will recover.

T. P. Hadfield, a brakeman on the freight train, was in the derailed engine, but escaped injury. After investigating, a coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the wreck was wholly accidental. Trainmen testified that the engineer had served only four months on the road and probably was not familiar with the length of the siding.

NOT SUICIDE, BUT MURDER.

Girl Found in River Tossed There After Strangulation.

Pittston, Pa., Oct. 24.—The tragedy of Ida May Brown, the 18 year old mill-girl, whose body was found in the river here on Wednesday night proves to be murder. The authorities had accepted the suicide theory until the girl's father demanded a post-mortem yesterday. This was performed by Dr. P. F. Hubler, of West Pittston, whose report to the Coroner's inquest Monday night will declare the girl was murdered by strangulation.

The murderer placed his hand over the girl's mouth and nose and shut off her breath; then threw the body into the river. There was no water in the lungs, and no internal condition that would suggest a reason for suicide. A young suitor of the girl has disappeared.

Episcopal Deputies Make Ruling for Hebrew Christians.

St. Louis, Oct. 24—Jews who have accepted Jesus Christ as the Messiah and have become communicants of the Protestant Episcopal Church may retain if they desire the Jewish national and racial customs and feasts, according to a ruling of the House of Deputies of the church's general convention, in session here yesterday.

The action was based upon a resolution that had been presented by the Rev. Floyd . Tompkins, of Philadelphia. It was asserted that there were in the United States hundreds of Jews who had accepted Christ and yet had hesitated to affiliate with Christian denominations because they did not care to abandon their racial customs.

Efforts to have women permitted to sit as delegates in the house of deputies of the general convention were abandoned, when, on the heels of a rejection by the house of bishops, a lower house committee reported the proposal adversely, R. H. Gardiner, of Gardiner, Maine, sponsor for the movement, consented to his resolution being tabled.

The House of Bishops rejected a proposal to open their sessions, which have been held behind closed doors since the first triennial convention in 1879 to the press and public.

Over some opposition, the re-election of Bishop Arthur Selden Lloyd as president of the Board of Missions, the most important board of the church, was confirmed in the House of Deputies. He previously has been re-elected by the House of Bishops.

A worthy tribute was paid to the memory of Mrs. Ellen Wilson, the deceased wife of the President, on Sunday, when a wreath of flowers entwined with an American flag was dropped from an aeroplane into the cemetery where her remains are buried. It was later deposited on her grave as a mark of respect from the citizens of Rome, Georgia, in which city her tomb is located.

All Dealers Now Sell Famous Cigars at 5c Straight. In Effect Today.

AUTO PLUNGES INTO RIVER

Four Drowned When Car Falls Through Chicago Drawbridge.

Chicago, Oct. 24—Hugo J. Warner, wealthy advertising man, and three others, all social settlement workers, were drowned last night when Warner's automobile plunged through an open drawbridge into the Chicago river.

They were returning from giving instructions in the Mazewell settlement house.

Warner, who was 31 years old, was advertising manager and director of the firm of Lord and Thomas. He was master of the Boy Scouts of the settlement.

The others who were drowned were Sylvan Kusel, 20 years, law student and teacher of English to the foreign class at the settlement; Miss Lillian H. Klausner, social worker in Maxwell settlement and Hull House, and Miss Jennie Klausner, her cousin, teacher in the Jewish normal training school.

Mrs. Henrietta J. Warner and Miss Sara Bernstein, both settlement workers and sociologists, were rescued. They escaped from the closed car and were thrown against piling to which they clung.

The bridge had been opened to permit the passage of a ship. The women agree that they did not hear the warning signal, and that no chains had been stretched across the roadway. The automobile skidded when Mr. Warner realized the danger, and applied the brokes only 10 feet from the open draw.

Twenty-two allied aeroplanes were shot down by the Germans during the last twenty-four hours, the German war office announces.

Four tons of projectiles have been dropped by a French air squadron of 24 machines on blast furnaces north of Metz and on the Metz and Thionville stations, the war office announces. Hits were secured on all the objectives, it was declared. Another French flotilla bombarded factories at Rombach.

French Zouave regiments are said to have suffered terrible losses in the recent fighting on the Somme. The crack Third Zouave Regiment was caught in the German machine gun fire and literally annihilated. Three other Zouave regiment sacrificed a half to two-thirds of their complement.

Sharp progress has been made by both the British and the French on the Somme front during the past twenty-four hours. The right wing of Gen. Haig's army, striking east from their recently acquired advance positions at Guedecourt and Lesboeufs, today cut a great hole in the German line in this sector, smashing through and capturing 1,000 yards of trench. South of Grandecourt efforts of the Germans to attack the British line with massed strength were frustrated by the liberal use of shells, which completely broke up the assault.

The Burgomaster of Eckernfords, Schleswig-Holstein, publishes an urgent order against the peeling of potatoes. The order says the prospects of obtaining potatoes in the future are exceedingly small, and that, despite official control, it is probable that only a couple of pounds weekly per head will be obtainable. Any one discovered peeling potatoes before boiling or throwing away peelings will be punished by three months imprisonment or a fine of 1,500 marks.

From the wheat fields of Arkansas President Wilson will be presented with the costliest barrel of flour milled in America. It took twenty-four bushels of the finest wheat to make the 198 pounds of flour that fill the round container. The President's barrel would cost $200 in the ordinary market. W. N. Adams, of Arkadelphia, Ark., grew the wheat and he had the honor of making the presentation today at Shadow Lawn.

Desperate fighting in the bend of the Cerna on the Macedonian front has resulted favorably to the entente forces. The Bulgarians counterattacked in strong forces, but were defeated by the Serbians, who inflicted heavy losses on the attacking troops. According to a dispatch from Berlin, the Serbian advance in the Cerna River sector on the western end of the Macedonian front has been halted.

A case of a man literally frightened to death in Newport, R. I., is reported. Gustav Ljunvall went to Brenton's Reef lightship as an assistant keeper last Wednesday, but before he had time to become accustomed to his surroundings the wind became a gale, accompanied by great seas, and the ship pitched at disturbing angles. Ljunvall complained of fears that the ship would go down. In a frenzy he tried to jump overboard, but was restrained. His violence increased and the crew after a struggle while the storm raged about them, put him in an improvised straitjacket and kept him there until he died Saturday.

Fifty-two is the known death toll thus far of the terrific storm that swept Lake Erie last Friday, playing havoc with shipping and rivaling in ferocity and destruction the great November gale of 1913. Fears are felt that the loss of life, ships and cargoes will by far exceed the preliminary reports now at hand.

The betting odds against Wilson shortened yesterday in New York to 10 to 9, and one bet of $1,000 was made at even money.

Fifty persons were killed and many injured in a rear-on collision of a freight and passenger train at Ramos Arispe, Mex., on last Friday. A freight train heavilily loaded with coal crashed into a slowly moving passenger train.

Charles C. Healy, general superintendent of the Chicago police, was twice indicted by the grand jury yesterday. Among other things he is charged malfeasance in office.
